Description

Today, no laboratory, hospital or practice should be without disinfectants and suitable dispensers. According to the Robert Koch Institute, however, dangerous germs can accumulate in disinfectant dispensers, especially in the pump head. This risk can be avoided with the Eurospender Safety plus.

Instead of cleaning the pump head after replacing an empty bottle, it can be easily replaced by a new pump head. Thus, you save time and money and benefit due to the easy replacement of the bottle and the pump by promoting hand hygiene compliance.

The dispenser meets the requirements of the current KRINKO recommendation:

- Allows for the use of disposable containers
- Allows the use of containers from different manufacturers
- Avoids microbial contamination of the pump head
