Description

The neoLab Laboderm® skin protection cream has already been proven 100,000 times!

Laboderm® laboratory skin protection cream offers protection and intensive care for sensitive skin stressed by everyday laboratory work. It promotes the subsiding of skin irritations and has a calming effect. The rich texture consisting of natural almond oil, beeswax, collagen and other important ingredients provides the skin with everything it needs. The simultaneous supply of lipids and moisture not only strengthens the natural regeneration of the skin, but also protects you. A light perfuming provides a pleasant fragrance. With regular use, Laboderm® skin protection cream keeps the skin smooth and supple. Suitable for normal and sensitive skin types.

Dermatologically tested by a medical specialist.

Made in Germany.

Application:

Apply Laboderm Skin Protection Cream to hands after washing and as needed.

It is also recommended to use the cream before daily work in cold or humid conditions.

The neoLab Laboderm® skin protection cream is also available without fragrance: 1-6039
