Description

The extremely lightweight neoLabLine neckband significantly increases the wearing comfort of protective masks. The ears remain free when wearing a protective mask with neck strap and the annoying "cutting in" is completely eliminated.

The mask straps are hooked into the hooks of the bracket. Due to the half-closed hook on one side, it can be attached to the one elastic band of the mask without losing it. Simply hook in the other band once the mask is positioned in front of the face.

Applications:

Great advantages in the use of the protective mask for laboratory workers, medical professionals, wearers of eyeglasses, hearing aids, hairdressers
